

Interior Design (BFA/MID)

Interior design is a multi-faceted profession in which creative and technical solutions are applied within a structure to achieve a built interior environment. The BFA/MID combination provides an edge over other bachelor only programs, offering students liberal arts, business, and design electives and the option to begin professional practice in the final year of study.

Program Highlights

The combined BFA/MID in interior design is a 151 credit hour program which includes 72 credit hours of major coursework at the undergraduate level and 31 credit hours of graduate coursework. A variety of job opportunities are available to students who have obtained the BFA/MID degree including residential design, commercial design or space and facilities planning. Brenau's program is certified by the Council for Interior Design Accreditation, and can be completed in four years.
